Teaching the Middle East Workshop

Teaching the Middle East VII: Identities and New Realities in the Middle East

Faculty Development Seminar

October 2-4, 2009

Georgia Perimeter College, Clarkston Campus

*"Identity is what we leave behind, not what we inherit.
What we invent, not what we remember." Mahmoud Darwish*

Using various lenses such as literature, music, and politics, the seventh annual Teaching the Middle East faculty development seminar will focus upon the common and disparate identities found throughout the Middle East.

Teaching the Middle East VII is an interdisciplinary seminar open to all college and university faculty. Registration for the weekend is $35, includes two dinners and one lunch, and is based upon a first-come, first-served basis. To reserve your space, please visit <http://www.cas.gsu.edu/dept/mec/outreach/resources.htm> to download a registration form. For more information, please contact Alta Schwartz at aschwartz@gsu.edu.

This workshop is sponsored by:

- Middle East Institute at Georgia State University (<http://www.gsu.edu/mideast>),
- Center for International Education at Georgia Perimeter College (<http://www.gpc.edu/~gpcglobe>)
- Georgia Consortium for International Studies (<http://www.gacis.org>)
