

2018 Executive Forum for Leading Internationalization:
Leveraging Technology

Speaker Information

Karen Ferguson
Provost
Colorado State University- Global Campus

Karen Ferguson serves as Provost at CSU-Global Campus. Prior to her current position, Ferguson held several faculty and administrative positions in non-traditional higher education. She earned her PhD in Education Leadership and Organization Development from the University of Louisville after serving 12 years in the military. She has worked on federal and state grants and served as an Army Research Institute Doctoral Fellow. Her research interests and passions include student success, retention, and workplace performance. Combining her military and academic leadership skills, Ferguson is a collaborative academic leader and learning professional focused on achieving strategic results, improving individual and institutional performance, and increasing organizational effectiveness. A non-traditional student herself, she is dedicated to ensuring access to a quality education for students of all backgrounds and academic ability.