Michael W. Matier
Vice President of Client Engagement
Academic Analytics

In this role he leads the Associates, who partner with client institutions in their often distinctive utilization of Academic Analytics, as a formative component of on-going institutional decision-making, including strategic planning, faculty development, and program development/assessment efforts. Previously, Matier was the Vice Provost for Institutional Effectiveness at Baylor University where he provided oversight to the university's strategic planning, institutional research, assessment, and accreditation efforts – all with the aim of contextualizing institutional decision-making. As part of his responsibilities, he was the executive sponsor for Baylor's utilization of Academic Analytics.

Earlier, Matier spent 22 years at Cornell University. His last position was Director for Academic Planning and Information Systems, where he was tasked with providing focused, non-parochial, central administrative input to and oversight of information technology system development, implementation, and enhancement.

Matier is an indigenous Pennsylvanian, who earned a B.S. in mathematics and secondary education from Shippensburg State College, an M.A.R. in theological studies from Westminster Theological Seminary, and a Ph.D. in higher education administration from the University of Oregon.
